Seb: that sounds like a blast me: it's pretty funny but disorganized Seb: comedy is one of my other great loves...my other website (which I don't really update that often) is www.thehumoreffect.com Seb: do you have anything funny that you've written that I can find online?
me: Google Barrett Brown McSweeney's me: your website title is the worst website title I have ever seen me: perhaps it was intentional?
Seb: hahah, in what way?
me: THE HUMOR EFFECT
Seb: I made it in middle school me: oh me: very well then me: wait, how old were you when you wrote these?
Seb: oh, no, the stuff that's on there now is from college
Seb: it's a totally different site now, when I had it then it was basically just a blog where I'd complain about illness related stuff, the "humor effect" referring to the curative powers of laughter
me: gotcha
Seb: i should have just told you I wrote them when I was 12, huh
Seb: :P
Seb: the heathridge one is funny... "We do not recognize the authority of the United States government." haha
